

Mission Statement

Croven Crystals is committed to being our customers' supplier of choice by providing technologically advanced crystal designs and products.

Our commitment is supported by our ongoing investment in advancing our process, design and manufacturing capabilities and by a desire by all employees to provide superior customer service.

Quality Policy

Croven Crystals is, and will remain, a world-class supplier to its global market and will apply innovative, forward looking ethical principles in complying with the requirements of that market.

We are totally committed to recognizing the needs of our customers, and responding to those needs with superior quality, service, responsiveness and specification compliance.

All of our employees are dedicated to these principles with total customer satisfaction and continual improvement as their constant goal.
